----- Published on January 25, 2017 Age of Empire: Total War is the critically acclaimed strategy game set in the Roman Empire. Developed by The Creative Assembly, it features stunning visuals, a huge map of the Roman Empire and online multiplayer. The Multiplayer game offers up to 16 players and supports HD and 60 fps. Other Features * Endless waves of enemies. * A huge map of the Roman Empire with over 130 cities and over 20 locations. * Combat that rewards carefully thought out decisions and tactical ingenuity. * The gameplay offers a mixture of turn based strategy and real time action. The Multiplayer game offers up to 16 players and supports HD and 60 fps. There is nothing new there. We have good news for you, today, the developers behind the game are teaming up with Wargaming to port the game to android and google play store, make it more accessible to users, and... So I'm assuming this is the "battle age of empire total war" which took place before the months of winter and comes out to be years ago in the Warhammer vs Drakes universe as I was aware of it like a year ago. Played one other game made by the same company, Warcraft 3, and looked a little too much like more of same in terms of graphics, but definitely still high quality. I am excited for this one so I am looking forward to see how it differs from the other one. I'd say this is actually a case of "be careful what you wish for" since it's going to be a port of the PC version. It may be better than the PC version but it won't be as good as an Android version for sure. I am not a fan of the german company at all but from the reviews on gowoods it seems that the game is really good and I was quite interested to try it out. I will look forward to try it out. I am a lover of this game. I bought it on the go and played it on and off whenever I got a chance, so this can only be a good thing. I also know I am not the only one that likes it. I have nothing to compare it to, but I really enjoyed my time with it. Deans... so I decided to do a little research, and just received the press release for
